Hanna Wants the Best Man.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.-With the meeting of the national committee today for the purpose of framing the preliminaries and adjusting the claims of contesting delegations, the anteconvention work set in. Next to the committee meeting the feature of interest today was the arrival of Chairman Hanna, who reached here at 1 o'clock. The national chairman was met at Broad street station by a committee of citizens and escorted to the Hotel Walton. As soon as he reached his rooms Mr. Hanna was beseiged

There was a great influx of visitors today. All but a few of the national committee are now here. Many delegates are also arriving. Quite a number of southern delegates are here.

Senator Hanna was asked after his arrival whether it was true that the president had a candidate for the vice presidency

"There is no truth in that report, he said, "none whatever. The president will not interfere. He has no candidate."

"Then, who is your candidate?" he was asked.

Mr. Woodruff was a candidate that I hoped not, and I do not retract that -...ent. That is the way I feel."

"As for Mr. Bliss, he is an admirable man, but he is out of the question; he cannot accept. Senator Allison? Well, I came over on the train with him, and he is absolute in his refusal. There is no doubt of his sincerity-in not wanting the place. As a matter of fact, we cannot spare him from his present place in the senate. He is

"What are Mr. Dolliver's chances?" "Mr. Dolliver is an avowed candidate and he has a good following among his friends in the house, but I cannot say more as to his prospects The truth is that there is as yet no approach to a settlement of the matter.'

Ohio Democratic Platform.

The platform adopted by the Democrats of Ohio in convention yesterday is fearfully and wonderfully made. In this respect it does differ materially from that on which the party stood in the campaign of 1899. The same old bugaboos are raised-"imperialism." "militarism," the "money power," etc. These straw figures have become so familiar to the public that they can no longer be considered as frightening anyone, but they are relies with which the Democrats are loth to depart.

The Chicago platform is reaffirmed and the Ohio delegation is instructed to vote for Colonel William Jennings Bryan the professional free silver candidate for the presidency. No specific mention of the free coinage of silver or the ratio of 16 to 1 is made. What the Democrats of Ohio expect to gain by such a shallow subterfuge is beyond the power of human ken. Do they really believe that any intelligent person can be deceived in such a manner's Everyone knows that the Chicago platform indorses the unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and that by reaffirming that platform both fre coinage and the ratio are made quite as much an issue as if they were specifically indorsed by the Ohio platform. Besides Colonel Bryan stands aquarely upon the Chicago platform the city attending the Moore-Riley refused to give them money, they beand declares that he will not consent to drop either free coinage or the ratio

If the Democrats did not go so far as to indorse either Bryan or the Chicago platform, their denunciation of the gold standard law would in itself place the party on record for the same principles which it advocated in 1896. We have no doubt many adherents of the Agnes Hodgin, of Marietta, to Mr. party who were enthusiastic advocates of free silver four years ago would will be held at the home of Mr. and gladly drop it now, but they cannot do Mrs. J. The denunciation of the Porto Rican ariff law was to have been expected. It is a Republican measure and it enunciates the Republican policy in dealing with our new possessions. That the policy favored by the Republicans is the only wise one that can be followed is admitted even by Democrats. The Porto Rican and Philippine questions are not to be solved by sentiment alone. They are practical questions and must have a practical solution. This is just the policy ad-State Journal.

Lightning Rods.

Perhaps it is not generally known hat more persons are killed by lightning than are killed by the railroads, when reference is had to the passengers traveling by rail. The reasoning, then, is that it is safer to travel by rail than to stay at home and be exposed to lighting. But, of course, this acquittais. The more important cases exposed to lightning, while but a small all disposed of .- Journal. part travels by rail, and many of those who stay at home pin their faith to lightning rods. And now comes the Electrical Review and in an iconoclastic vein riddles the lightning rod in the Blennerhassett hotel with L. E.

"The fact of the matter seems to be' population of nearly 80,000,000; more are killed by the nails in their shoes or falling chimneys. The real trouble seems to be that thousands upon thousands of people are badly scared several times every summer by the lightning, or, rather, by the thunder which accompanies it. Far be it from us to shake the faith of any timorous soul who believes the feather bed to be a haven of safety during a thunderstorm. The time-honored rules about sitting in drafts, or near open windows or standing under trees, are well worth observing, especially if they give the individual any additional sense of security and alleviate his mortal dread and distress. We can not see that any of the discussion has proved that the lightning rod has ben of the least use. At best this would be city at some health resort.-News. negative proof were it possible to produce it. As it stands, however, rural districts are the home of the lightning rod and the place where lightning does "I have none. My only desire is to nearly all its damage. We do not see many lightning rods in cities, nor do we hear much about the evil effects of

Yet, in spite of this announcement, made as by one with authority, there vet will be thousands who will cover their heads beneath the sheets when the lightnings flash and the thunder rolls. Even the lightning rods will not give them perfect assurance. The fact of the matter is, protection may be found at some time in the near future, but the electrician of the present loesn't know enough about lightning to avert danger entirely. "In the abworth a dozen of us other fellows sence of this information," says the rods is generally wasted."-Commercial Tribune.

Bombay Suffers Awful Hor- Black Knot and Peach Yel-

At the offices of the India Famine Relief Work, Bible House, under the auspices of the Christian Herald, the date has been received: Bombay, May 28, 1900. Dr. Klopsch has just completed his tour of the Famine District in Bombay Presidency, including the native states of Gujerat and Baroda. Everywhere he was confronted with shocking and revolting scenes. He found the famine camps stampeded by cholera and smallpox fugitives who had come from distant points of infection and are now scattering these diseases in all directions. Many are dying in the fields and ditches and along the roadside.

At Godbra, about 300 miles north of Bombay in Guierat district, there were 3000 deaths from cholera in four days. At Donad, some fifty miles east of Godhra, he found a similar frightful 2,500 deaths from cholera. In the hospitals the death rate as reported by the

At Baroda, some seventy miles south of Godhra, he found in the poorhouse 1,200 natives who had been rescued from famine. The place was dreadful-

At Ahmedabad, about eight miles west of Godhra, he found the water supply vitiated and a prolfic cause of sickness. In the poorhouse at Ahmedabad the death rate was ten per cent daily. The thermometer at Ahmedadeal yesterday for a one-half interest bad marked 115 degrees in the shade. He next visited the smallpox and cholera wards of Viramgan. All the patients are lying on the ground, there being no cots for their accommoda-

> Dr. Klopsch declares the stories of human bodies being devoured by vultures, dogs and jackals absolutely true.

It is evident, Dr. Klopsch adds, that the India Government is doing its best understood that the deal was one of to fight back the ravages of famine the best ever made in hotel property in and disease. The native officials, howtel it has gradually increased in value, the condition of a large part of India is, as a whole, the worst that has been The distress to be seen on every side is heatrending, but it is to be feared that the worst is yet to come. This the ticket brokerage business here, but will be reached when the monsoon breaks and the torrential rains flood the relief camps and a large part of the famine area, spreading disease, and especially cholera.

Dr. Klopsch has purchased a thousand hand plows, which will be given to those native agriculturists who have lost their oxen. He is now arranging for the purchase of 100,000 blankets to be distributed before the rainy season sets in. He has protest ed to the authorities against the employment of nursing mothers, sick women and delicate children on the relief works, such employment being in violation of the famine code. In this connection he has received an appreciative letter, from Lord Northocte Governor of Bombay, promising an immediate investigation.

It is quite clear, however, that all that has been done will count for little unless in the crisis more help is generously and quickly extended.

Calcutta, Monday,-The Englishman comments of Mr. Louis Klopsch's visit and says: "Lord Curzon recently halled the Emperor William's famine gift as a sign of the solidarity of the Anglo-Saxon and Germanic races, Mr Klopsch comes in with his hands full of grain and his pockets full of money for the purpose of saving our fellow subjects from starvation. May we no ecognize the same principle at work? Mr. Bryce said a dozen years ago that the Americans were the most philanthropic nation in the world. Until we have a chance of repaying it let Mr. Klopsch's visit and the work he has done and is doing remain convincing

BLACK KNOT.

Black-knot is a fungous disease at fecting the plum, cherry and kindred following cable despatch of yesterday's tree fruits. The Damson among plums, and the Morello class among cherries are the most susceptible. SUMMER TREATMENT.

Beginning with the growing season the knots develop rapidly. They should be cut off as soon as seen and burned at once. The badly infected branches should be cut off below point of infection and burned, not left under the tree, nor piled in heaps and left in the orchard.

WINTER TREATMENT.

Affected trees that have been prop erly treated during the growing period will be free from knots, generally will be free from knots, generally speaking. Should any remain after the leaves have fallen they should be cut off and burned, and badly affected branches also, but not later than February 15, as the spores or seeds then ripe. A large majority of young trees can be saved by judicious prun-ing and will ultimately become healthy; otherwise the trees will die and infect others in your and your neighbor's orchard.

PEACH YELLOW.

Yellows is a highly contagious, in-curable disease of the peach. Trees affected with it should be destroyed at the earliest possible moment by up-rooting and digging them out and burning roots, trunk and branches, in cluding fruit, on site. No remedy save that has proven successful. Dragging diseased trees through an orchard will infect healthy

Late summer and fall are the most favorable times, for detection of yellows by symptoms of fruit and twigs. These are: 1.
